WORTH'S MONUMENT SAFE

Its Location in the Heart of New York City Secure.

Under the Shaft is the Sepulchre of the Hero of American Victories in the War With Mexico—An Honored Crypt Not to Be Displaced. New York's Tribute to a Citizen.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Artists and sculptors, who have recently been hinting that the Worth monument at Madison Square is out of place and ought to be removed, have apparently overlooked or forgotten the fact that the shaft, which for more than forty years has stood at that busy centre is not only a monument, but that it marks the sepulchre of General William Jenkins Worth, the hero of Monterey, Chapultepec, Cerro Gordo, and Vera Cruz.

Brigadier General William Scott Worth, U. S. A., the son of General Worth, believes that if this fact had been generally known such a suggestion would never have been seriously considered. The site of the sepulchre and of the monument was New York city's own selection. The shaft was put there by the city of New York as a tribute to one who was a native of New York State.

On the death of General Worth in 1849, crowned with the laurels of his victories in the war of 1812, the Florida Indian war and the Mexican war, a committee of New York citizens asked his widow to permit New York city to provide his burial place and mark it with a suitable memorial. She willingly assented, and the general's body was temporarily placed in a vault in Greenwood Cemetery. The Madison Square monument and the crypt beneath it were designed by James G. Battersworth. On November 25, 1857, the general's body was there entombed and the monument was dedicated with military pomp and the solemn rites of the Masonic ritual. Governor King and his staff led the procession, which consisted of nearly all the local militia organizations of the city.

TILLMAN STILL AT LARGE.
The Suspected Incendiary Eludes Capture.
SUFFOLK, Va., April 7.—Edward Tillman, a negro, who is suspected of having been the incendiary who caused the burning of a portion of the town of Ivor yesterday, has not been captured. The crowd which expected to extort his whereabouts from his old father last night, and which was bent on summary vengeance, did not see the suspect or any member of his family. The father and mother had left their little home.

Edward is said to have worked in Smithfield. He had held malice against Bryant & Horne, to whose store the torch was first applied, since being ejected from the place last December, and he is alleged to have threatened its destruction by fire.

The motive, threats, and tracks, with the fact that Tillman had recently been seen in the vicinity of the burning, are strong links in a chain of circumstantial evidence. Now that feeling is more subdued it is believed that the advice of conservative men to permit a judicial investigation will prevail.

KILLED IN A STREET DUEL.

One Death and Three Men Wounded at Huntington, W. Va.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., April 7.—Seldon Sharitz was shot and instantly killed, Charles O. Snyder shot and dangerously wounded, and Senator E. M. McCallister and Hall Ross slightly injured in a duel which occurred on Ninth Street yesterday afternoon.

Senator McCallister, Edmund Fry, Seldon Sharitz, and several other well-known Democrats were standing on the sidewalk discussing the municipal election when Hall Ross, a Republican, and who is an extra policeman, came along. He hurled some little remarks at those assembled and when they resented he backed into the street and opened fire on the crowd with a .44-caliber revolver.

Senator McCallister, Mr. Fry, and another gentleman standing in a hallway near by opened fire on Ross and more than fifteen shots were fired. Early in the fight a bullet from Ross' revolver killed Sharitz, but Sharitz, after falling to the sidewalk, pulled his gun and shot twice before he expired. Senator McCallister received a very slight wound on his head and another penetrating the leg of his trousers. Strange to say Ross was only slightly injured. A stray bullet struck Charles O. Snyder, a prominent merchant, who was standing inside his store. He penetrated the left side of his head, but he will probably recover.

All parties were arrested. Ross is in jail. Senator McCallister and Mr. Fry were released on bond.

There is great excitement here and more trouble is predicted. Mayor Bandenburg has ordered every saloon in the city closed and a large number of extra officials have been sworn in.

Shortly after the street and Col. E. H. Pitch, a Republican attorney, knocked all Democratic constable down, when the latter pulled a gun, but was prevented from shooting by bystanders. A crowd of men gathered around the scene and many of them closed their doors till the excitement subsided.

Negotiating for Coal Land.

PIEDMONT, Va., April 7.—E. D. R. Sutton, of Philadelphia, is here in the interest of Pennsylvania capitalists negotiating for a large body of coal land. He and J. O. J. Greene went to Cumberland to examine titles and close a deal for Mr. Greene's land. He stated his syndicate had $2,000,000 to invest in coal land, and that they would develop coal mines at Piedmont at once, four or five hundred people here within a few months. Mr. Sutton will remain here for several days. He has options on numerous tracts of coal land.

Royal is the most economical of all the leavening agents.

Greater in leavening strength, a spoonful raises more dough, or goes further.

Working uniformly and perfectly, it makes the bread and cake always light and beautiful, and there is never a waste of good flour, sugar, butter and eggs.

Finer food; saving of money; saving of the health of the family; the last is the greatest economy of all.

Some baking powder makers claim their powders are cheaper. They can be cheaper only if made from cheaper materials. "Cheaper" means inferior materials always. To cheapen the cost of an article of food at the expense of its healthfulness, as is done in alum baking powders, is a crime.

SOLD HIS SOUP RECIPES.

An Unusual Basis of a Suit for Damages.

BALTIMORE, April 7.—An order signed yesterday by Judge Sharp in Circuit Court No. 2 requires the Assau Baines Company to show cause by April 20 why it should not be enjoined from preparing certain soups and entrees in accordance with the alleged recipes and process of William Henry Moore. The bill of complaint was filed by Mr. Moore, through William B. Smith, attorney. It states the company was incorporated in Delaware and is now engaged in Cheswald, Del., and Baltimore in the manufacture and packing of fruits, soups, entrees, etc.

In November, 1899, it is alleged, while Mr. Moore was living in Philadelphia, he was engaged by the company as chef at a salary of $14 a week. Mr. Moore, it is also alleged, is the possessor of valuable recipes for soups and entrees, which have enabled him to secure permanent and lucrative employment. At one time, it is stated, Mr. Moore was employed as chef by the Duke of Edinburgh, second son of the Queen of England, by reason of which and other employment of importance he acquired a remarkably good reputation for ability as a chef.

While Mr. Moore was ill, it is alleged, he was induced to divulge his recipes to the company and was finally discharged March 17, after he had signed a paper releasing the company from any claim for using his recipes. It is claimed that the release was signed while Mr. Moore was in such mental condition that he did not know he was selling his rights for the paltry sum of $25.

The court is asked to declare the release null and void and to require the company to account to Mr. Moore for sales made since his discharge.

Railway Men's Wages.

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 7.—Basil Browning and Joseph Birmingham, a committee of Baltimore and Ohio shophmen, have returned from Baltimore, where they submitted a wage scale to the officials and reported to the machinists here in secret meeting. It is understood that a rate of wages averaging $2.35 a day has been agreed upon, that the foreman is allowed $2.35 for each man in his department, and he to rate the men according to their ability from $2 to $2.60 a day. It is thought the arrangement will generally prove satisfactory.
